7. Description

The house at 200 6th Avenue SE is estimated by the Bremer County Assessor to have been constructed in 1939. This date is consistent with the building's form and design. The house is an example of a Colonial Revival Style, Side-Gable Roof, 2-story residential form. The building has a concrete block foundation with wide wood clapboard siding for the walls. It has a moderate pitched side-gable roof with no eaves and three widely spaced gable wall dormers set low on the front façade. A 1-story double-bay garage is attached at the east end with the overhead door (a replacement) set in the east gable end. An exposed limestone chimney is centered on the west gable end. Fenestration includes various sizes and styles of multi-light windows typical of Colonial Revival Style buildings. On the first floor, front façade a symmetrical arrangement of hipped roof bay windows flank the main entrance, each with narrow 6/6 double-hung units and a large 15/15 double-hung unit in the middle. The entrance surround for the centered door has fluted pilasters beneath a broken pediment molding. On the upper level 6/6 double-hung windows are in each of the wall dormers. Elsewhere 6/6 double-hung units are used, with the exception being the hipped roof rectilinear bay on the first floor, west end that has multi-light casements. Quarter circle windows are to either side of the chimney in the west gable with a semi-circular opening converted to a louvered vent in the east gable. A vented cupola is centered on the garage ridge.

8. Significance

The house at 200 6th Avenue SE derives significances under Criterion C as an example of a Colonial Revival Style residential form from the late 1930s. The building's high level of integrity and classical elements (symmetrical façade, Classical entrance surround, multi-light windows, and wall dormers) for this style add to the building's significance.

Historical Background for Waverly¹

Waverly was established in 1853 along the Cedar River in Waverly Township located in southeastern Bremer County. It was designated as the county seat for Bremer County the same year that the county was officially organized and was formally incorporated in 1859. Like most Iowa towns established before the Civil War, growth during the early 1860s was deferred until after the war came to a close. Waverly's first railroad, the Cedar Falls and Minnesota Railroad was extended to Waverly in 1864. Eventually track was also laid for other branch lines and an electric interurban. By 1917 track for branch lines was absorbed by the Chicago and Great Western Railroad and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad. Track for the electric interurban – the Waterloo, Cedar Falls, and Northern – was laid in 1910 but usage was never as substantial as predicted.

Waverly grew in the manner typical of other Iowa county seats in the late 19th and early 20th century. Its commercial center extended along the east-west route of Bremer Avenue on both sides of the Bremer Avenue Bridge that crossed the L-shaped course of the Cedar River as it passed through the center of town. The county courthouse was located outside of the commercial area on a slight prominence at the east end of Bremer Avenue. Residential districts grew up in the four quadrants formed by the intersecting main street and river. The broad, generally flat profile of both the business district and early residential neighborhoods saw the regular occurrence of flooding resulting in the gradual replacement of most first generation frame building stock. German immigrants were among the largest ethnic group to populate Waverly during the 19th century establishing religious institutions with ethnic affiliations such as St. Paul's Lutheran Church in the northwest quadrant, St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in southeast quadrant, and the German Methodist Church.

Bremer County and its county seat of Waverly prospered during the late 19th and early 20th century becoming a retail and professional services center for Bremer County and sections of adjacent Butler County. The county's standing as the "Dairy Spot of Iowa," gave rise to a number of dairy industries including a manufacturing plant operated by the Carnation Milk Products Company for the production of condensed milk in the 1920s. Population stood at 16,300 people in 1900 before the growth rate slowed before World War I. By 1930 population topped 17,000. Expansion of a Lutheran seminary in Waverly first located in the community in 1879 through the relocation of Wartburg College to the community in 1939 was a cultural and economic stimulus for the community. Waverly continued to add a 1,000 people per decade until 1950 when the post-War boom saw growth accelerate to more than 21,000 by 1960. During the past 50 years population has slowed somewhat topping out at 23,325 in 2000.

The house at 200 6th Avenue SE is estimated to have been constructed in 1939 according to the Bremer County Assessor's records. This date is consistent with the architectural style, materials and form. When Brooks and Woodruff Addition was laid out in 1913 by W.M. Brooks and Van Woodruff, there was no vehicle bridge crossing the Cedar River to connect the new residential subdivision with downtown Waverly. The developers recognized the need for a bridge and began advocating for it in the community and at the county level. The Bremer County Board of Supervisors eventually agreed to the project with donations of $3,500 raised by Brooks and Van Woodruff and other community supporters offsetting some of the cost. The bridge was completed in 1917. Housing stock in the Brooks and Woodruff Addition dates from a few years before World War I through the 1950s with outlying houses further east and south built into the Cold War years. This span of housing development puts the house at 200 6th Avenue SE among the houses constructed at the end of the Depression era in this oxbow-shaped neighborhood formed by the Cedar River.

Brooks and Woodruff Addition located in Cedar River oxbow, Sanborn Map, 1927. Red star marks resource. Note that the Sanborn Map incorrectly depicts the 3rd Street Bridge crossing one block to the west at 2nd Street SE. The correct alignment is shown in yellow.
