7. Description

The Myrtle Chamberlin House at 201 4th Street SW is estimated to have been constructed in 1928 according to the Bremer County Assessor's records. This date is consistent with the building's form and design. This was one of a number of houses built by the Waverly Lumber Co. in partnership with local contractor, in this case, Ralph Russell, a masonry contractor, during the early to mid-1920s. This house was completed later in the decade in ca. 1927 and passed to Myrtle Chamberlin.

The house is an example of the Craftsman Style Hipped Roof, 1-Story house form. The house has a brick clad concrete block foundation with matching mottled reddish brown-colored brick walls. Bricks are laid in running bond with no decorative pattern work except for a semi-circular brick arch and masonry infill above the front door. The house has a low-pitched, compound hipped roof on the main block and north and south wings. A contiguous moderate-pitched gabled wing and entrance vestibule are offset on the front façade. The house has deep eaves but no exposed rafter tails or brackets except for small brackets on the entrance gable.

Fenestration includes 6/1 double-hung windows of various sizes arranged in singles and pairs. Basement windows have three vertical lights. The asymmetrical arrangement of the front façade has a pair of narrow 6/1 units to the left of the entrance, a short pair in the front gable peak, and a single larger 6/1 window to the right of the entrance vestibule. Elsewhere, 6/1 windows appear according to the lighting needs of interior spaces. The house has a detached double-car garage built in 1927 according to Assessor's records. Located east of the main building, it has a low-pitched hipped roof with exposed rafter tails, stucco clad walls, and a replacement overhead door.

8. Significance

The Myrtle Chamberlin House at 201 4th Street SW derives individual significance under Criterion C as a well-preserved example of a Craftsman Style residence built using the Hipped Roof, 1-Story house form. The building's well-executed masonry work, unusual form with hipped wings and a contiguous gabled entrance wing, and high level of integrity add to its significance. The garage is considered a contributing resource because of the retention of its matching Craftsman Style hipped roof form and stucco finish. The house is also significant as a contributing resource in the Sturdevant SW Historic District under both Criteria A and C. The historic district qualifies for the National Register of Historic Places as a well-preserved collection of mid and late 19th century and early 20th century architectural styles and vernacular house forms located in Waverly's southwest residential neighborhood. The neighborhood developed as a middle class and working class residential district from the late 1850s through the mid-20th century.

Historical Background for Waverly¹

Waverly was established in 1853 along the Cedar River in Waverly Township located in southeastern Bremer County. It was designated as the county seat for Bremer County the same year that the county was officially organized and was formally incorporated in 1859. Like most Iowa towns established before the Civil War, growth during the early 1860s was deferred until after the war came to a close. Waverly's first railroad, the Cedar Falls and Minnesota Railroad was extended to Waverly in 1864. Eventually track was also laid for other branch lines and an electric interurban. By 1917 track for branch lines was absorbed by the Chicago and Great Western Railroad and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad. Track for the electric interurban – the Waterloo, Cedar Falls, and Northern – was laid in 1910 but usage was never as substantial as predicted. Waverly grew in the manner typical of other Iowa county seats in the late 19th and early 20th century. Its commercial center extended along the east-west route of Bremer Avenue on both sides of the Bremer Avenue Bridge that crossed the L-shaped course of the Cedar River as it passed through the center of town. The county courthouse was located outside of the commercial area on a slight prominence at the east end of Bremer Avenue. Residential districts grew up in the four quadrants formed by the intersecting main street and river. The broad, generally flat profile of both the business district and early residential neighborhoods saw the regular occurrence of flooding resulting in the gradual replacement of most first generation frame building stock. German immigrants were among the largest ethnic group to populate Waverly during the 19th century establishing religious institutions with ethnic affiliations such as St. Paul's Lutheran Church in the northwest quadrant, St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in southeast quadrant, and the German Methodist Church.

Bremer County and its county seat of Waverly prospered during the late 19th and early 20th century becoming a retail and professional services center for Bremer County and sections of adjacent Butler County. The county's standing as the "Dairy Spot of Iowa," gave rise to a number of dairy industries including a manufacturing plant operated by the Carnation Milk Products Company for the production of condensed milk in the 1920s. Population stood at 16,300 people in 1900 before the growth rate slowed before World War I. By 1930 population topped 17,000. Expansion of a Lutheran seminary in Waverly first located in the community in 1879 through the relocation of Wartburg College to the community in 1939 was a cultural and economic stimulus for the community. Waverly continued to add a 1,000 people per decade until 1950 when the post-War boom saw growth accelerate to more than 21,000 by 1960. During the past 50 years population has slowed somewhat topping out at 23,325 in 2000.

Historical Background for the Myrtle Chamberlin House at 201 4th Street SW

The house is located in the southwest quadrant of Waverly that includes additions platted by early Waverly settlers, Ira Sturdevant and his son William Sturdevant. The Sturdevant family moved to the unsettled area along the Cedar River in the mid-1850s. Ira received a 40-acre federal land grant based on his military service in the War of 1812. William acquired 80 acres of adjoining land to the north of his father's 40-acre parcel. In 1857 the William Sturdevant's Addition was laid out and in 1860 the Ira Sturdevant Addition was platted. Growth remained relatively slow in these subdivisions until after the Civil War.

The Myrtle Chamberlin House at 201 4th Street SW is estimated to have been constructed in 1928 according to the Bremer County Assessor's records. The building's materials, design and form are consistent with plan books from the 1920s and early 1930s distributed by plan houses such as the Home Plan Book Company out of St. Paul, Minnesota and kit house companies, including many located in Iowa, Illinois, and Michigan.

Waverly Lumber Company acquired this property with a referee title on 9/15/1924 and three years later transferred it to Ralph Russell, a masonry contractor. His relationship to the Russell Brothers contracting company from the 1890s through the early 1900s is unknown. It is likely that the house was one of several designs promoted by the Waverly Lumber Company with construction material packages offered for construction by the company through local contractors such as Ralph Russell. After holding the property for five months during which time Russell likely completed the dwelling's construction, he transferred it to Myrtle Chamberlin. Five years later in January 1933 the house passed back to Waverly Lumber Co. from Chamberlin. Then, in April 1933 it was resold by the lumber company to Lillian Cook who held it until 1941.
